Family History Ideas New Year, New Habits!

January is the perfect time of year to set a few family history goals. There is so much to do!

Here are 10 ways you can develop habits related to family history this year:

1

Put the Family Search app icon or widget on the home page of your phone

2

Turn on notifications for the Family Search app on your phone

3

“Follow” relatives you knew personally on Family Search to get updates about them

4

Set a goal to do more “contributions” on family history than you did last year

5

Create the habit of spending a couple minutes on Family History before using social media

6

Every Sunday, “Make Memories” by recording stories from family members into Family Search

7

Digitize documents, photos, audio, and video! You can use your phone or if budgets allow, you can use a service like LegacyBox.com

8

Teach others about family history!

9

Make a goal to attend the temple regularly this year! If you’re a youth, help your parents set up a time to do baptisms and confirmations. If you’re in primary, share names to the temple to allow others to do the work for you!
